THURSDAY, NOVEMBER, 11th, 1886.

Henry Watterson and wife arrived at Louisville Tuesday from an extended tour in Europe.

Two small schooners are reported to have sunk during the furious gale of Saturday and Sunday.

The Courier-Journal says Henry George is being mentioned, here and there, as a Presidential factor for 1888.

James R. Tyler, of Virginia, a grand-son of ex-President Tyler, has been appointed a watchman in the Interior Department.

The United States steamer Man-hatten was lost with her entire crew last Saturday. She foundered off the coast of New Haven, Conn.

In Floyd County, Kentucky, Wm. Bayes, aged eighteen years, was almost instantly killed by being caught between a rolling log and a tree. When extricated, without saying a word, he sprang forward, ran about thirty yards and fell dead. His chest was frightfully mangled.

The Democrats gained one Congressman in Colorado, one in Louisiana, two in Massachusetts, three in Minnesota, one in Nebraska, one in Pennsylvania, one in South Carolina, three in California, and one in Tennessee.

Democratic losses reduce their majority in the Fiftyeth Congress to 19.

California sends two Republicans and four Democrats to represent her in the Fiftyeth Congress. In the present Congress that State has five Republicans and one Democrat. The Democrats also succeeded at the last election in obtaining a majority in the Legislature of California, which means that a Democrat will be sent to the Senate.

The fatal burning of Miss Sallie McGrath, which took place last Sunday morning before she began dressing for breakfast, and from which she died at 1 p. m., was one of the most distressing events of the kind that ever happened in this community. She was tenderly beloved by all and most by those nearest to her domestic and social relations. She was buried in the Panville cemetery Monday at 12 m. in the presence of the largest concourse of citizens assembled there in years. It is a fact not generally known that when two-thirds of the human body is injured to the extent of blister, death is inevitable. In such cases it is not deep burning that becomes fatal so much as extensive surface burning. The light apparel worn for night dresses at this season of the year is particularly dangerous. It will burn in a flash instantly, and though immediately consumed still lasts long enough to scorch almost the entire body, which is inevitable death.—Lexington Observer.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

Little or no mention is made in the dispatches or newspapers of the election for members of the Board of Equalization. So far as can be ascertained the following is a list of the Board elected on Tuesday last:

1st District—S. R. Lemon (Dem.)
2nd District—Priest (Dem.)
3rd District—Speck (Rep.) probably.

4th District—W. A. Roberts (Dem.)
6th District—H. C. White (Dem.)

8th District—J. A. Cohen (Dem.)

The Washington correspondent of the Courier-Journal gives the following as Senator Kenna's views on the result of the elections:

He said to-day that he thought the Democrats were in very good shape. The result of the election he considers far from disastrous to them. They have a good working majority in the House, and there is nothing, he says, to make them uneasy about 1888. The Senate will stand 37 Democrats and 37 Republicans, leaving Van Wyck and Riddleberger out. In the House he estimates the Democratic majority at 22, counting the labor candidates as Democrats. He says he has not had time to look over the field so as to judge what significance the election may have on the tariff.

For Instant Use

As a reliable remedy, in cases of Croup, Whooping Cough, or sudden Colds, and for the prompt relief and cure of throat and lung diseases, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is invaluable. Mrs. E. G. Elderly, Council Bluffs, Iowa, writes: "I consider Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a most important remedy for home use. I have tested its curative power, in my family, many times during the past thirty years, and have never known it to fail. It will relieve the most serious affections of the throat and lungs, whether in children or adults." John H. Stoddard, Petersburg, Va., writes: "I have never found a medicine equal to

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

for the prompt relief of throat and lung diseases peculiar to children. I consider it an absolute cure for all such affections, and am never without it in the house." Mrs. L. E. Herman, 187 Mercer st., Jersey City, writes: "I have always found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral useful in my family." B. T. Johnson, Mt. Savage, Md., writes: "For the speedy cure of sudden Colds, and for the relief of children afflicted with Croup, I have never found anything equal to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is the most potent of all the remedies I have ever used." W. H. Stickler, Terre Haute, Ind., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral cured my wife of a severe lung affection, supposed to be Quick Consumption. We now regard the Pectoral as a household necessity." E. M. Brooks, Bridge, Brainerd, Minn., writes: "I am subject to Bronchitis, and, wherever I go, am always sure to have a bottle of with me. It is without a rival for the cure of bronchial affections."

We do not along this way but once and it is our duty to relieve all the suffering and sorrow we meet if possible. Therefore be it resolved that each of us who comes across a sufferer with piles, will tell him there is a balm in Gilead in the shape of Taylor's Buckeye Pile Ointment. It is a great remedy.

"What is the secret of your bread?"
Than mine 'tis so much whiter
Mine, half the time, is just like lead—
Than feathers yours is lighter."
"Well, Jane, I'll slip it in your ear,
My skill you must not flatter,
J. Monroe Taylor's Gold Medal Soda or Saleratus, dear,
Now, that is what's the matter."

We have received two late for review "An Old Woman's Story," a book written by a gentleman well and favorably known in this community—Mr. W. T. Pierson. A notice of the work will appear in our next, and in the meantime we advise our friends to read the book, assuring them that from what we know of the ability of the author the cost of the book will be well invested.

In the snowing, in the blowing, in the cruel sleet, the most comforting assurance we can have is that all coughs, colds, and diseases of the throat and lungs, will yield to that most excellent preparation known as Cousens' Honey of Tar. Its pleasant and efficacious when used simply for clearing the voice, removing hoarseness, etc.

Some new books have been received at the Louisa Library, the works of Prescott, Huxley, Spencer and Irving. Historical Evidence of Christianity," Hawthorne's Intellectual Life, Poems of William Cullen Bryant, etc. The collection of books in this library is splendid, and every citizen of Louisa should become a member, so as to profitably employ the long winter evenings now on hand.

If all mothers knew the value of Cousens' Honey of Tar, when used for whooping cough, they would get a bottle for their little ones when needed. It is not claimed that this preparation will cure whooping cough, but it is a simple fact that it will lessen its severity and duration, and never fails to cure colds, coughs, and diseases of the throat and lungs. No family should be without it.

The general department of both rooms has been good. Some insubordination in the principal's room was promptly met with dismissal, and there has been no recurrence of the offense.

Miss Moore's room is entirely too small for the number of pupils, and my room is badly warmed and when severely cold weather comes it will be impossible to hold school in the hall.

G. W. Wroten, Principal

If 'out of sorts' with headache, stomach disorder, torpid liver, pain in back or side, constipation, etc., neglect may be fatal. One dose of Strong's Sanative Pills will give relief. A few doses restore to new health and vigor.

The Parent of Insomnia.
The parent of insomnia or wakefulness is in nine cases out of ten a dyspeptic stomach. Good digestion gives sound sleep, indigestion interferes with it. The brain and stomach sympathize. One of the prominent symptoms of a weak state of the gastric organs is a disturbance of the great nerve center, the brain. Investigate the stomach, and you restore equilibrium to the great center. A most reliable medicine for the purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is far preferable to mineral sedatives and powerful narcotics, which, though they may for a time exert a soporific influence upon the brain, soon cease to act, and invariably injure the tone of the stomach. The Bitters, on the contrary, restore activity to the operations of that all important organ, and their beneficial influence is reflected in sound sleep and a tranquil state of the nervous system. A wholesome impetus is likewise given to the action of the liver and bowels by its use.
